

Iconic Images: Then and Now Photography workshop for high school students

Ottawa

May 23 and May 30, 2009

9 AM to Noon

Franklin County Records Center

1124 W 7th Street Terrace

Presented by Ron Clevenger

Migrant Mother, Nipoma, California by Dorothea Lange, Library of Congress

1930s photographers, like Dorothea Lange, captured the hardship and despair of the Great Depression in images that are still powerful today. Aspiring photographers will have the opportunity to study historic local images from the 1930s and to create their own images of contemporary life in the Iconic Images workshop.

For registration information, contact the Franklin County
Historical Society at 785/242-1232.

Click here for Iconic Images of Ottawa from the 1930s

Part of the Bright Dreams, Hard Times: America in the Thirties Chautauqua
www.kansashumanities.org or www.knchautauqua.org